Gus. Lancaster has leased a mining acreage in Trinity county which he will work with a friend. They report prospects very good.

Most of the printers and publishers of the state are holding confab at Oakland this week discussing and perfecting an organization for mutual benefit in these strenuous times.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Price and baby, Ruth, accompanied by Mrs. S. L. Hayes, motored in from Vacaville Tuesday, Mr. Price returning Wednesday. Mrs. Price will remain for a fortnight when Mr. Price will return to take her home.

Gilmore Duncan arrived home from France Sunday after doing his bit with the marines for a year most of which was in the over sea service. He is looking A-1 and is more than pleased to get back on the home jobs in the fruit.

Mrs. C. H. Whitman and her sister, Mrs. H. W. Young, expected to leave Wednesday for Coquille, Oregon, the latter's home, but on account of striks conditions were unable to go. They will start as soon as possible and Mrs. Whitman will visit there for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Phelps and Miss Leviston report a pleasant outing in the Big Basin. Every available camp spot was taken there being about 1500 campers and visitors in the park. With such a throng now what will it be at the time of the big play next week?

The railroad strike became a reality at Campbell Wednesday when the fruit shipments failed to arrive from distant growers and some of the fruit hands were temporarily off the job. However local packers are on the trail of their shipments and will have trucks on the job so that the delay will not be any longer than absolutely necessary.

Another of Campbell's happy lads arrived from New York last week and got his discharge from the Navy Friday in San Francisco. This was Life Price who has done a trifle over a year in the transport service. "Life on the ocean wave." "Never again," he said. Altho, when he landed at the home place they were up to their knees in prunes it sure beats the sea.

Judge J. F. Boyd and wife of Neleigh, Nebraska, and Mrs. H. W. Young of Coquille, Oregon, were week-end guests of their sister, Mrs. C. H. Whitman. This is not Judge Boyd's first visit to this coast nor his last. It is becoming a habit and the oftener he comes the more he wants to come. He is now contemplating buying a home in this "most attractive valley." Being unable to continue their trip to Los Angeles because of the strike, they went to Lake Tahoe for a short stay. They were accompanied by Miss Charlotte Davis on the trip to Tahoe.

Jolly Pay-up Party

The Purple and Gold division, losers of the Epworth League contest, entertained the Red and Greens at a novel masquerade party at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Duncan, Tuesday evening.

Many pretty and novel costumes were the creation of some of the young ladies. Several of the party were so well camouflaged that their identity was not known for some time.

The evening was most enjoyably passed in games and "good eats."

Food For Fans

Manager Bradford has completed arrangements for staging one of the best baseball attractions of the season for Sunday and Monday at Sodality Park.

The Colored Giants of New Orleans will fight it out with the Bears in a hit and run contest. The former need little mention as their name speaks for itself and their coaching is a side-show of itself. With the Bears will be Billy Menges and Jim Devine former coast leaguers and "Tex" Farrell of 14 years' experience in big company. Doubtless many of Campbell's fans will be seen at both games.

The Proof of the Pudding

Police records throughout California show that the total number of arrests for all offenses during July of this year, as compared with July, 1918, decreased 50 per cent. Los Angeles is the only considerable city in California showing a number of arrests larger this year than last, a condition attributable to a vigorous campaign in the congested districts against speeders and violators of the city's many traffic ordinances. Eliminating arrests for these offenses, the number of arrests in Los Angeles would show a substantial decrease.

Following is a comparative table of arrests made in the larger cities of the State for July, 1918 and July, 1919:

Total Arrests for All Offenses.

	1918.	1919
San Francisco	3844	1820
Oakland	1060	576
Los Angeles	3078	4038
Sacramento	352	98
San Diego	543	169
Fresno	393	132
Stockton	451	115
San Jose	98	62

A number of cities, like San Diego, report jails never before empty without a single occupant for one or more days during July.

Under prohibition.

Business is going right on.

Crime is decreasing.

Jails are emptying; there are not trusties enough to do the work.

Men who never had a chance are now finding it, and homes are emerging from the mess that liquor made of them.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and California is finding prohibition to its taste.

Expensive Dog Meat

One hundred dollars worth of meat was fed by Hilario Laudajo, a camp tender for the Gerlock Land and Livestock Company, to his dog recently.

The meat consisted of two does, killed by Laudajo while herding sheep in the Modoc National Forest. It was, he claimed, unfit for human consumption, but made very satisfactory dog meat. The hides were discovered by Game Warden Courtright and Forest Ranger Ben L. Johnson, both of Alturas. During his enforced journey from the lava beds to Justice of the Peace Metcalf of Lassen County, Laudajo repeatedly offered the warden his whole "roll", consisting of several times the hundred-dollar fine imposed.

Young Hens Best Layers

There are people who have the right variety of fowls, who house and feed them properly, and yet who can not obtain eggs early in the winter because their fowls are too old. It is seldom that it pays to keep hens for laying after they are two and a half years old; not that they will not give a profit, but that younger fowls will give a greater profit.

VEGETABLE SEEDS—Fresh Stock

What to plant now.

Fresh vegetable seeds for the season of 1920 have arrived, and those in the following list may be planted during the month of September:

Spinach, Peas, Beets, Brussel Sprouts, Cabbage, Cauliflower, Kale, Endive, Lettuce, Parsley, Parsnip, Radish, Rutabaga, Turnip.

Although you may be too busy at the moment to commence the actual work of gardening, it is a good idea to begin planning. And here is good news, too! The small packages of seeds are to sell at the old pre-war price of five cents.

BOY SCOUTS

WILL GERMANY HAVE SCOUTS?

The Danish, Norwegian and Swedish boy scout organizations, in conference in Christiania, cabled Chief Scout Executive James E. West as follows:

"Danish, Norwegian, Swedish boy scout conference, Christiania, has urged peace conference not interpose obstacles scout movement. Germany, Austria invite scouts of America most urgently support appeal.

"LEMBECKE DONS LIEBRATH,
"Chief Scout."

The chief scout executive placed the matter before members of the executive board in the following letter:

"The difficulty about the scout movement in Germany is that there were four separate movements and only one of the four, as I understand, from Sir Robert Baden-Powell, has any of the heart and soul such as the English scout movement or the Boy Scouts of America. They made the scout movement there essentially an ally to their militaristic policy.

"If there was some way by which we could, as a practical proposition, give leadership to having the treaty provisions specify that there should be no boy scout movement except such as followed the program of the English Boy Scouts or the Boy Scouts of America, it would be a splendid thing for the boys of Germany and the movement as a whole."

The matter was laid before Hon. W. G. McAdoo, and the combined judgment of the members of the board, Mr. McAdoo and the chief scout executive resulted in the following reply:

"Recommend that League of Nations be requested to make adjustments about German and Austrian boy scouts instead of appealing to peace conference."

SCOUT TROOP OWNS BALLOON.

Parker B. Francis, a scoutmaster of Kansas City, Mo., has what is believed to be the only balloon troop in the country.

Mr. Francis has been engaged in the manufacture of hydrogen gas for use in aeronautics and has instructed his troop in many of the peace and war-time uses of this gas. He has given them the balloon. Recently the troop took it through Kansas City streets to advertise an army event. This balloon had been used during the war as a part of the anti-aircraft defenses of the city of Paris, and had actually tangled several German planes in steel network.

DAIRY FACTS

RATIONS TO PRODUCE MILK

Cow Should Be Fed So That Greatest Possible Amount of Feed Goes to Supply Milk.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Many owners of cows are confronted with the problem of supplying economical milk-producing rations for their cows. Under these conditions there is a strong temptation to cut down on the amount given to each animal. The total quantity of feed must be sufficient, and if the concentrates are cut down, more and better roughage must be supplied.

The reduction of feed below a certain amount always means a reduction in the amount of milk the cow produces. There may be exceptional cases where the owner is feeding more than is necessary for the maximum milk production, but the greatest danger is the other extreme. The cow requires a certain amount of feed to maintain her body. The amount she receives above this maintenance ration goes either to meat or milk production. The cow should be fed so that the greatest possible amount of feed goes to actual milk production. A few simple rules are offered to this end.

1. Highly specialized cows, which never carry excessive fat and are persistent milkers, being dry only a month or so, should receive all they will consume. With such cows economy in feeding is equivalent to liberal feeding.

2. With general-purpose cows, or those which tend to beefiness, the dairyman must adjust his feed strictly to the milk produced, or he will find his feed going to form fat instead of milk. Cows of this nature, the milk from which contains about 5 per cent of butterfat, should receive what roughage they will clean up and one pound of grain for every three to three and a half pounds of milk produced. When the milk tests about 3½ per cent, the cow should receive one pound of grain for four to four and a half pounds of milk.

3. Dry cows should receive feed enough to insure their being in good, thrifty milk-producing condition when they freshen. Poor cows drop weak, puny calves and will not produce properly, as they have to use a part of the feed to build up the body.

4. Cows of a beefy nature should not be fed enough to make them excessively fat when dry, as the dairyman does not receive returns from such feed, and excessive fleshiness tends to sterility. On the other hand there is little danger of overfeeding highly-specialized dairy cows which are not dry for more than one month to six weeks, as during this period any flesh put on and not essential to bodily vigor will be turned into milk when they freshen.

ATTENTION TO YOUNG BULLS

When Six Months of Age They Should Be Separated From Females—Don't Retard Growth.

After the bull is six months of age he should be kept apart from the females. If well grown and vigorous, he may be used for occasional service when ten months of age. It is a safer plan, however, not to use the young bull until he is twelve months of age so that his growth will not be retarded. One rule to follow regarding the number of cows with which a young bull may be mated is that the bull may serve during a season as many cows as he is months of age. In herds where the services are distributed throughout the year, instead of during a particular season, the number may be greater, in some cases but one bull being necessary for a herd of 40 to 50 cows.

Rebels Now Rule Half of Mexico

Official Information Shows Carranza Barely Clings to Control Over Rest.

HAS ONLY 60,000 TROOPS

President Is Too Weak to Keep Order as Bandits Harass Whole Country—Industry Snuffed Out and Morale at Low Ebb.

New York.—The Mexican problem was never more toublesome. Conditions in that revolution-racked land were never more chaotic than they are today. Carranza now controls little more than one-half of Mexican territory and his hold on that is not at all secure. Opposed to him are six organized rebel organizations, not including the Sonora Yaquis, while everywhere his authority is hampered and his troops harassed by organized banditry.

Bearing upon actual conditions in Mexico, the New York Times has come into possession of certain information, now in the official possession of the United States government. Verification of these statements which follow is to be found in the archives of the government in Washington.

Carranza has officially claimed that he is supported by a regular army of 120,000 well disciplined and well equipped troops. This statement is not borne out by the facts in the case, and the truth of the matter is that his armed forces number not more than 60,000 officers and enlisted men, who are poorly equipped, whose morale is at low ebb, yet upon whose loyalty depends Carranza's sway over a people who number more than 115,000,000.

Today the Coahuila "chieftain" is exercising authority in those parts of Mexico not under rebel or bandit domination as a dictator and through the promulgation of executive decrees. Of the great American border-line Carranza is in control of not much more than one-third, while the whole of southern Mexico is severed from "federal control" by a stretch of rebel-controlled territory that on the Atlantic extends from the rich oil lands of Tampico almost to the City of Vera Cruz, and on the Pacific by the entire coast line of the great state of Oaxaca. Lower California has become to all intents and purposes independent of the government that sits in Mexico City.

Three General Divisions.

The contending forces in Mexico may be referred to under three general heads. They are:

First—The federal or Carranzista forces.

Second—The rebel forces led by Felipe Angeles, Francisco Villa, Guillermo Meixuerlo, a full-blooded Zapotec Indian, and by many well-informed observers considered the ablest and most trustworthy leader in Mexico; Felix Diaz, Manuel Pelaez, who dominates the Tampico and adjacent oil fields; the Zapatistas, still, despite Carranza affirmation, a power in that part of Mexico of which the state of Morelos is the center; General Cantu, governor of the state of Lower California, and the organized Yaqui Indian forces of the western part of the border state of Sonora.

Third—The bandits who, in small groups, are operating everywhere in Mexico.

As to the first or federal forces supporting Carranza, it is, as already pointed out, the official claim of the present Mexican, or Carranza, government, that this force numbers 120,000 men. It is a conscript army to a great extent and it is small and inefficient for two reasons, the first being Carranza's inability to enforce conscription, and the second the fact that he is unable properly to equip, train, or maintain necessary discipline.

Owing to these two conditions, over which Carranza appears to have no control, the federal army of Mexico is today at its maximum strength. It is an army poorly organized and poorly equipped. Of this army a large proportion is held in or near Mexico City, leaving the remainder, numbering less than a full division, according to the American organization, to guard and maintain supremacy in the states of Nuevo Leon, eastern Coahuila, southern Durango, Hildago, San Luis Potosi, Guanajuato, Queretaro, Michoacan, Jalisco, Tepic, Zacatecas, Guerrero, Colima, Chiapas, Campeachy, Yucatan, Tabasco, Quintana Roo, and the eastern or Atlantic edge of the state of Vera Cruz, which territory on paper remains under federal control.

The big transcontinental stretch of rebel-controlled territory, which averages more than 100 miles in width, and which forms an unbroken barrier from ocean to ocean, completely separates the federal-controlled states of the south—Chiapas, Campeachy, Yucatan, Tabasco, part of Vera Cruz and Quintana Roo—from the states or parts of states over which Carranza still holds sway in the north.

Villa Forces Strongest.

Of the organized opposition groups which are seeking to overthrow Carranza, the most powerful is that which is operating in Chihuahua and neighboring states under Angeles and Villa. The Villistas, as this force is popularly known, is not the unorganized, poorly equipped, and undisciplined force that a great many people in this country think it is. It is, on the other hand, probably the best organized and equipped military organization in Mexico. It numbers 10,000 men commanded by Angeles, the French trained rebel leader, with Villa second in command. It is well equipped with rifles and is said to have a fairly well organized artillery arm, and the Villistas fire the best ammunition, which, as a rule, is American made and is smuggled across the Rio Grande by "gun runners."

The Angeles-Villa forces are today practically in control of the entire state of Chihuahua, a large part of Durango, the eastern part of Sonora, and the western part of Carranza's own state of Coahuila.

The one part of Chihuahua that Angeles and Villa do not control is the border city of Juarez, opposite El Paso, and they would today be in possession of that much-needed border port but for the fact that they brought about American intervention in their plans by firing over the border into the Texas city. The Americans did not go to Juarez to help Carranza, as some people think, but solely for the purpose of safeguarding the lives of Americans on the Texas side of the Rio Grande.

The next more important rebel force in Mexico is that under command of Manuel Pelaez, who dominates the oil-producing regions of the Tampico country. Pelaez has under his command 3,000 well organized and fairly well equipped men. The value of the foreign oil interests in the territory in which Pelaez is operating is estimated at more than $300,000,000. Pelaez is said to be pro-ally in sentiment, and to this is due in large part the failure of the Germans and their Carranzista sympathizers to gain control of the oil fields while the European war was actively under way.

Allies Like Meixuerlo.

Under Guillermo Meixuerlo, in the state of Oaxaca, is another rebel force of several thousand well organized men. Carranza has made desperate but ineffectual efforts to dislodge Meixuerlo, who is easily one of his most feared opponents, and whose record is such as to win the sympathetic approval of the allies. Meixuerlo is a full-blooded Zapotec, a lawyer, and a man of fine education.

Next in importance among the rebel groups is that commanded by Felix Diaz. Under Diaz, according to official information, there are approximately 5,000 men. The Diaz forces, however, unlike those under Pelaez, Angeles and Meixuerlo, are loosely organized and are said to be in great

PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

STATE OFFICIALS WILL AID

Committee Named to Bring About Closest Co-operation in Construction of Highways.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

To bring about the most effective co-operation between the federal and state governments in the big program of highway construction now under way, A. R. Hirst, president of the American Association of State Highway Officials, has named, at the request of the secretary of agriculture, a committee to act with the department of agriculture's bureau of public roads in carrying into effect the federal aid road act and its amendments.

Following are the state representatives selected by Mr. Hirst:

George P. Coleman, state highway commissioner of Virginia; S. E. Bradt, state superintendent of highways of Illinois; Charles J. Bennett, state highway commissioner of Connecticut; W. S. Keller, state highway engineer of Alabama, and Ira R. Browning, state road engineer of Utah.

Stimulated by recent liberal amendments and added appropriations to the original federal aid road act, road-building plans in the states have received tremendous impetus. Many of the states have provided by large bond issues and otherwise, amounts much larger than will be required to match the federal appropriations.

Up to May of this year, 1,057 project statements for federal aid roads had been approved by the secretary of agriculture. They involve the improvement of 10,580 miles of roads at an estimated cost of $92,933,121.81, of which the federal aid requested was $36,576,857.48. The amount of federal funds available on March 1 for road building was more than $72,900,000, which, under the law must be matched by an equal amount from the states, making a total of $145,800,000, which includes approximately $9,800,000 from federal and state sources for roads in the national forests. Funds that will become available on July 1, with equal contributions from the states, will provide an additional $198,000,000 for federal road work, making an aggregate sum of $343,800,000 available for the calendar year. It is expected, however, that the states will defer taking up part of the available funds until 1920.

War conditions, which almost immediately followed the passage of the first federal aid act in July, 1916, brought scarcity of labor, materials and transportation, and restricted road-building projects to those absolutely essential to winning the war. Thus the road program was held back for more than a year at a time when demands for improved roads increased more rapidly than in any previous period. State and federal forces alike are working to get highway construction under way as rapidly as contracts can be let and as soon as road-building forces, somewhat disorganized during the war period, can again be placed on an efficient working basis.

Behind China on Highways.

America has developed its railroads far beyond those of Europe, but it is behind even China in the utilization of its wagon roads and waterways, those reliable avenues of cheap transportation. It is time we made an effort to catch up with China.

George Ade on Good Roads.

George Ade says. Good roads cost money, but show me a community which has invested in hard roads such as can be used at all times of the year and which now would be willing to go back to the mudholes for a cash consideration.

Good Roads Are Prerequisite.

Good roads are prerequisite to successful motortruck operation. It is believed that few motortruck operators realize the increased expense which results from travel on poor roads.

EASY TO COMBAT GARDEN INSECTS

Gardener Must Adopt Remedies Designed to Control Annual Horde of Pests.

CONTROL COLORADO BEETLE

It Feeds Readily on Poisoned Foliage and Well Known Treatments of Spraying Should Be Known to Potato Growers.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

From the time the earliest seed is put into the ground to the harvesting of the last crop, every home vegetable garden may be expected to suffer from the attacks of the army of insects pests which annually creep from their winter quarters, hungry from their long fast, to fatten on the carefully nurtured seedlings, riddle the grown plants, and multiply to countless thousands during the days of midsummer. The careful and far-sighted gardener may most readily demonstrate his skill through the adoption and correct application of the remedies best designed to control this horde.

Colorado Potato Beetle.

Wherever a small plot of potatoes is grown, the Colorado potato beetle is likely to be found. The mature or "hardshell" beetles which have spent the winter safely buried in the ground, begin to come out about the time when the plants are a few inches high. First they hungrily devour a part of the young and tender foliage, after which they begin to deposit, on the undersides of the leaves, their clusters of orange-colored eggs, of which a thousand or more may be laid by a single female. Effective work may be done at this time by hand-picking the beetles from the plants into a can of water, with a little kerosene over the surface. The eggs may be crushed between the thumb and finger.

Care at this stage will prevent the appearance of the fat, shiny red larvae or "slugs," which are much more destructive than the beetles, frequently stripping the plant entirely if left without attention. When first hatched, these feed in groups, but as they grow larger, they spread over the plant. When growth is completed, they descend to the ground, into which they burrow to a depth of several inches. When in the course of a few days they again emerge, they have taken the form of parent beetles.

Means of Control.

The Colorado potato beetle is one of the pests most easily controlled. It feeds readily on poisoned foliage, and the well-known treatments of spraying or dusting with arsenate of lead or paris green should be familiar to every grower. The spray mixture may be prepared in small quantities by mixing two-thirds of an ounce, or ten level teaspoonfuls of powdered arsenate of lead with a gallon of water. This should be applied with a sprayer capable of throwing a fine, misty spray. A good atomizer will do effective work on a small scale, at a cost of a dollar or less. The upper surfaces of the leaves should be well covered by the spray. A simple method of dusting is to mix thoroughly the same quantity of powdered arsenate of lead or a heaping tablespoonful of paris green with a quart of air-slaked lime or lime plaster. Dust this over the plants by shaking through a cheesecloth bag.

RIGHT PLACE FOR MATERIAL

Not Advisable to Keep All Sizes of Bolts and Screws in Single Receptacle.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Tools and materials should be kept in their proper places. Do not keep all sizes of bolts or screws mixed together in a single receptacle, but fit up suitable boxes or bins, so that the supplies may be accessible on short notice.

Hay While Moon Shines.

Making hay while the moon shines is a sensible policy on days when it is too hot for such strenuous work as haymaking. Taking for granted, of course, that there is a moon.

CALOMEL TODAY, SICK TOMORROW

Dose of nasty calomel makes you sick and you lose a day's work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.—Adv.

Sausalito.—Despite the fact that there has never been an accidental fire occasioned on ferry boats by reason of smoking and that gasoline is not ignitable by such fire as is present in cigar or cigarette, motorists are to be still more hampered in their freedom by a ruling that will become effective if the Southern Pacific Company has its way. In a letter to the Automobile Club, the company proposes cooperation in a rule preventing all smoking on boats carrying automobiles.

LISTEN TO THIS! SAYS CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT NOW

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.—Adv.

Membership Urged

To the Growers of Santa Clara County:

Last Tuesday a committee of four growers, all members of the Farm Owners' and Operators' association, came to San Jose and met with the writer and three other members. The Morgan Hill people complained of continued thefts both from orchards and dry yards. We took the matter up with Sheriff Lyle, who informed us that he personally had gone before the Granges last November and told them that something had to be done by the improvement and other organizations in order to protect the fruit this year. He stated that he had only ten deputies and could not spare any of them for county work. He showed us how his deputies are delegated to take care of prison work and we readily saw Sheriff Lyle was doing all he could do with his meagre help. Santa Clara county is in the fourth class with its 10 deputies and Fresno is in the eighth class and has 19 deputies. How does this condition happen? Who can answer? The growers met in hap-hazard way and went before the last legislature. They asked for 12 deputies to take care of the fruit thefts and instead of getting that number we secured but two. As the order did not become legal until 90 days after the governor signed it, the two extra men did not start to work until to-day, with the fruit season half over. Sheriff Lyle explained that it was not right to deputize growers, because should a shooting scrape occur, they as taxpayers, should not be called upon for the taking of another man's life. He said that, on the request of several growers near Mountain View, he had placed a special deputy there at $150 per month, the growers agreeing to pay the man's salary. (Now what was the increased tax for this year?) The sheriff advised that we see the supervisors, and so the writer was asked to interview these gentlemen and request some relief. I called yesterday to see Mr. Hubbard and he said that he would take the matter up with the other supervisors and let me know today. I called on Mr. Hubbard again today and he told me that after talking the matter over with Supervisor Roll they thot nothing could be done legally, but they would, however, take the matter up at the next supervisors' meeting on September 2. It was his opinion that they would not be able to do anything for the growers even then.

Now, growers, how long, how long are you going to stand this state of affairs? Legally your tree tax can be raised at any time; but, legally you cannot get protection for the fruit that comes from those trees—trees that have been assessed 100 per cent more than last year. Growers, how long are you going to stand for your legislature to trim your requests for 12 deputies down to 2? The answer is very plain—just join an organization that is taking in members at the rate of 300 per month. Let us get together and by December if we can show a membership of 3,000, all these impositions will be done away with, your requests for protection will be secured inasmuch as you are footing the bills.

J. J. McDONALD,
Chairman Santa Clara Unit

Perfection by Degrees.

Rembrandt says: "Learn to do well what you already know, and you will find in time the unknown things that you now inquire about."

Muscular Activity and Heat.

Owls and other birds which are active at night show a rise of temperature during the hours of darkness and a fall during the day. This is a result of the well-known fact that muscular activity means an increased production heat.

Soldiers' Superstition.

Cavalrymen have a superstition of their own. A mounted man firmly believes that he will come through the deadliest charge unscathed if he carries on his person the tooth of a war horse, the only condition being that the horse itself has, at some time, been through a charge unhurt.

WAKE UP, PATRIOTS! It is the patriotic duty of every good citizen to buy his portion of War Savings Stamps and many are sadly neglecting that duty. Santa Clara County's quota for this year is $1,000,000 in stamps. So far the purchases have fallen far short of this amount and in order to make it up it will be necessary for every man, woman and child to buy $10 worth during the coming 4 months. Not only is this a duty to the country but you owe it to yourself to practice the thrift habit. And when you have bought, hold them until 1923 when you will receive a goodly interest for your action.

It is reported that some of the local limit members cashed in their stamps shortly after the publicity campaign was over. Sueh an act, if not really necessary, was unpatriotic and selfish.

THE prune harvest, for which this valley is the most noted in the world, is in full swing. Growers, pickers, dippers, spreaders, and last but not least, the "old sol" himself carry the smile of a happy worker. The crop, probably the largest ever grown in history of the valley, is being gathered and handled in record time. The grower is getting a top-notch price for his fruit and the worker for his hire. Is it any wonder that this has been named "the valley of heart's delight?"

WILSON proclaimed to the world that all secret treaties should be abrogated in the peace settlement. But privately he told Professor Williams that the war seemed to have been fought to establish the sanctity of treaties and implied that the Japanese-British-French agreement on Shantung must therefore be recognized. Once in a while we are permitted to see how great a difference there often is between private opinions and those advanced for public consumption.—Chronicle.

Mrs. Ralston Alison and Helen will go to San Francisco Saturday and remain over Monday to view the arrival of the fleet. Mr. Alison and Lucille with Miss Mary Conway will join them Sunday.

Geo. S. Robson, president of the Campbell Improvement Club, has wired the heads of the several brotherhoods asking for the immediate relief of the strike situation owing to the loss to fruit growers and workers, and has already received favorable replies from several.

Mrs. B. Downing has taken over the business conducted by Mr. R. G. Dunning in her building and will run the same after the rooms have been renovated and everything put in good condition. We bespeak success for Mrs. Downing in her new enterprise. The Dunning family is considering moving to San Jose where their daughter, Mrs. Tobey, is employed.

The committee in charge of the Sunday evening sings at the Congregational church is pleased to announce that Mrs. Warren Shelly will sing this coming Sunday night and a special invitation is extended to the members of the congregation and any who have no other regular place of worship to be present both to enjoy and help. This half hour of general sing with special music features, is proving very popular with those in attendance, but larger numbers would add to the zest.

Another Blunder

When our ready prints arrived this week we found that they contained advertising which the company has been ordered to keep out of the papers sent to Campbell. As there is not time after the patents are received to return them and receive another shipment it becomes necessary to use them. We wish it understood that, whereas in a sense we are responsible for advertising in our paper, these notices appear contrary to orders. We are adopting a new measure which we anticipate will be efficacious in the future along this line.

Cleaning Silver.

A quick way to clean silver that is not tarnished, but merely discolored is to wash it in a weak solution of ammonia water. This removes the black stains. After cleaning them with the solution they should be washed and polished with a cloth. This method works well on silver spoons which have been discolored by eggs.

Spirit of Success.

A writer in Physical Culture denominates enthusiasm as the most precious possession a man may have. It may be inconsistent from lack of intelligent direction, it may bubble over instead of boiling just enough, but it is the spirit that moves the world. Enthusiasm is a quality that keeps its possessor bright, alert and alive.

Making an Old Thing Useful.

My oven had a tendency to burn on the bottom until a friend told me to cut a piece of old wire screen just the size of my oven, and always keep it in place. Since then I have had no further trouble. The cost was nil, as I cut the screen from a discarded door. —Cartoons Magazine.

Ghastly System

World Trade Club of San Francisco is receiving daily a large number of letters from English-speaking people all over the world, pledging support to the campaign for world wide adoption of the metric units meter liter-gram.

A Lieutenant-Colonel in the British Army who is still stationed in France has written World Trade Club as follows:

"You may be amused at the following story of a conversation of mine with two officers of the U. S. American Ordinance Department with whom I made dear friends. I said: 'There is one thing about the United States which, when I realized it, filled me with horror and contempt.' This made them sit up and wonder what I was getting at. However, they quite politely asked me what it was, without knocking me down. I replied: 'You use to your disgrace the same GHASTLY weights and measures as we do.'"

Another typical letter comes from the pastor of a large London church. He says of the metric system: "I am convinced that its exclusive use would create a greater unity among the world's nations, both commercially and socially, and would therefore be a potent means of the continuation of peace. Therefore, I hope that your efforts to this end will be repaid with success."

Osage Orange Toughest of Woods.

One of the toughest of woods is that of the so-called Osage orange, which, however, is not an orange at all, but belongs to the nettle family. Some idea of its strength may be had from a report made not long ago by the forest service, which shows that a block 30 inches long and 2 inches by 2 inches in cross section, when bent, breaks under a stress of 13,666 pounds.

Airplane Developed by War.

When the war began the highest type of airplane could not be depended upon to do much more than 50 miles an hour. Today the speedier war planes make 120 miles an hour in long flights. Where the best machines formerly carried two men, or their equivalent in weight, the larger machines of the present will safely carry a ton or more of cargo.

Musk a Chinese Monopoly.

Musk is one product of world commerce in which China practically enjoys a monopoly—not a large one, to be sure, since the annual output is at best only some $400,000 gold, but the product itself is worth many times its weight in silver, and for that matter, gold as well, in these days of high exchange, says the Far Eastern Review, Chungking.

Naming of Picadilly.

Picadilly, made familiar to most Americans by "Tipperary," is believed to have got its name from pickadelles or picadillies, a variety of turnover collar. A tailor named Higgins, who had made a fortune selling these articles of apparel, built a home in that particular part of London in 1680 and called it Picadilla hall, hence the name Picadilly.

Birds' Nests for Soup.

The birds' nests from which the far-famed Chinese soup is made are built by a species of swallow that abounds on the coasts of Java, Ceylon and Borneo, and consists of a gelatinous substance obtained from marine plants. The nests are boiled either in chicken broth or in milk of almonds, and the result very much resembles vermicelli soup, except that it is far more costly.

They Put Him in the Copper.

In the Tudor days the poisoner was liable to be condemned to death by boiling; while under another statute, the man convicted of theft "shall have his head shaved, melted pitch poured upon it, and the feathers from a pillow shaken over it, that he may be known." After all there are advantages in living in the twentieth century!

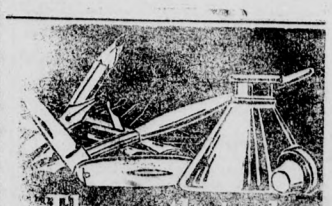
Most Important Part of Tree.

Many regard the roots of a tree as its most important part but this is not the case. The top or crown is of major importance for there the processes of reproduction take place and there the digestion of its food takes place. The crown contains the lungs and stomach of the tree.



A pencil, a knife, a steel nib, an inkwell, a penholder—all of them together can't give the writing service of a Conklin.

And they're costly, because they're not permanent; but a Conklin lasts for all time. Fills in 4 seconds. Can't leak, blot or scratch. A special Conklin point for every hand.

Every Conklin is guaranteed to write and fill exactly as you think a pen should—it either does this or you will be furnished a new pen or your money refunded without question. There are no "ifs" about it—YOU are the judge.
